Student Council Effects Changes In Point System

All Offices Count Fewer Points;
Full-Time Jobs Will Limit
Activities

Two very important changes have been made by the Student Council in the Point System for control of participation in activities which was adopted last December and which will go into effect tomorrow, September 23, 1931.

Under the revised system the maximum of 15 points for one student has been retained, but the scale of points has been revised downward, making it possible for most students to participate in more activities than was thought possible under the original announcement.

This revision, however, will benefit only those students who are not employed full time. The present Student Council has made one radical addition to the list of activities subject to the point system in adding to the 5-point offices the holding of a full-time position of any sort. This automatically prohibits any student so employed from amassing more than 10 points in University activities.

Believed A Careful Evaluation
The revised system is believed by the Student Council to be a carefully balanced evaluation of extra-curricular activities which will lead every student to select his particular fields of participation more carefully and make it possible for him to devote his attention more thoroughly to the organizations with which he is affiliated. The Council expects that the system will scatter the work and honors of campus life over a greater number of undergraduates.

There is a sharp distinction between the new and old systems. Under the old system, the highest amount an undergraduate could amass was 15 points. Under the new plan, the maximum is 10 points. From the eight-point offices there is a drop to 5 points, and from 5 a sharp jump to the 2, 1, and 1/2 point positions.

Few Will Be Affected
As a result of the downward revision of points it is probable that only a few students will be affected by the Point System, and these few will probably be hardest hit by the new restriction on participation in activities when employed full time. Where a student exceeds the 15-point maximum, the Council will permit him to choose the activities he will drop in order to remain within the limit.

The Student Council committee on the Point System is now at work on a survey of office holders in the University, and when this is completed any necessary adjustments in the number of points held by individuals will be required and administered by the Council.

There will be found below the new

Herzog Supervises 1931 Publications as Graduate Manager

Former Business Manager of Cherry Tree Will Devote Entire Time to Publications Duties

Henry William Herzog has been appointed graduate manager of publications at George Washington University, according to a recent announcement made by the University.

The position of graduate manager is a comparatively new one on the publications staff, having been created last year for the purpose of having a more experienced person, one who would devote his entire time to it, to supervise the activities of all University publications.

Herzog should ably fill the position. Entering George Washington in 1925, he immediately became active on the editorial staff of both the Hatchet and the Cherry Tree, and during his last two years in school he served as business manager of the Cherry Tree.

His experience gave him a foundation which an outsider could not possibly acquire. A number of new ideas are being developed under Herzog's guidance which, it is hoped, will further the interest of the students in journalistic activity. One plan has been carried out—that of giving the Hatchet more of the status of a real newspaper. Another plan, which Herzog intends to carry out, is to conduct regular meetings of the staff, at which well known journalists will lecture in an effort to improve the calibre of the copy as well as well as the make-up.

Freshman Assemblies

There will be an assembly of all new students in Corcoran Hall at 12 noon Wednesday, for the day students. A similar assembly will be held for incoming night students in Corcoran Hall at 5 p. m., Wednesday.

All Tuition Rates Upon Equal Basis

Standardization Is Result of Three-Year Plan of Board
Of Trustees

Culminating a plan formulated by the board of trustees in 1928, tuition rates in every branch of the University have been adjusted and standardized so that every student registering for this term will be subject to the same fees. The rate fixed for all schools is $8 a semester hour.

Heretofore students in some departments of the University were paying $7, others $8, and some an even higher rate. This unequal distribution will no longer exist under the present system. In spite of the fact that students registering in some branches will be required to pay a higher rate of tuition, the fees remain substantially lower than in any other institution of higher learning in the District, and below the general level throughout the country.

Rates Are Low Locally
According to the educational directory published by the Washington Chamber of Commerce, students at American University pay tuition of $300 per year plus fees. Catholic University charges the same rate, and Georgetown University lists a fee of $400. At the rate of $8 a semester hour, students at George Washington pay $240 for a full-time course for one year.

During the past year the College of George Washington University was given an A-1 rating by the Association of American Universities, so that a degree granted by the University means as much to the graduate as would one conferred by any other university in the land.

Any student who finds himself handicapped under this new plan can avail himself of the loan fund established by the board of trustees of the University, details of which appear in this issue.

Additions Constructed And Repairs Completed On University Buildings

In preparation for the opening of the University new construction and repairs were rushed to completion during the past two weeks.

The recently purchased building on the corner of Twentieth and G streets has been remodeled to house the History Department and the offices of the Division of University and Extension Studies.

Enlarged laboratories and class rooms have been supplied for the Zoology Department through the conversion of two smaller buildings into one.

A glass conservatory has been constructed for the Botany Department for the growth and study of plants.

An interesting feature of the improvements is the construction of a research laboratory, equipped with the requisite scientific instruments and interconnected with the Zoology laboratories, for the study of tropical diseases.

First Dollar Dance Next Saturday Night

Goldman's Orchestra to Furnish Music for Post-Game Affair

The first of a series of dollar dances to be given by the Inter-fraternity Council after football games played at home will be held in Corcoran Hall No. 10, Saturday, September 26.

Goldman's orchestra will furnish the music for the affair which will last from 9 until 12 p. m. According to all reports it promises to be a gala function, being the first inter-fraternity affair after a football encounter. Although it is hoped that it will be a dance of victory, it is possible that we may be dancing our sorrows away.

Pleasant memories will be wadded back to those who attend this dance as the dollar dances are well remembered by the students who frequented these gatherings and everyone is urged to attend this, the first dance of its kind in the school year of 1931-32.

Four Prominent Men Pledged By Honorary Group

Omicron Delta Kappa Recognizes
Eminence In Campus
Activities

The famous tap ceremony of Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary activities fraternity, appeared for the first time on the campus at George Washington during class night exercises when four men were singled out as leaders in student affairs.

Provost William Allen Wilbur, honorary member, introduced Robert Gray, president of the fraternity, who took charge of the ceremony. One by one the prospective members were approached in the audience, tapped by a member of the fraternity and conducted to the platform where they were formally pledged.

The students so signally honored are Wendell Bain, Richard Castell, Arthur Kriemelmeyer and Winfield Weitzel. Bain was recognized for his performance on the business staff of the Cherry Tree, of which publication he is now business manager.

Castell has been active on the business staff of The University Hatchet, having recently served as business manager of that publication. "Otis" Kriemelmeyer, was chosen particularly for his prowess on the gridiron. He is a representative of Junior College on the Student Council.

Winfield Weitzel has been active in publications, and was honored for his success on the editorial staff of the University Hatchet. He is at present editor-in-chief of the Hatchet. Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalistic fraternity, has elected Weitzel president for the coming year.

Other extra-curricular activities have distinguished the students of this group but they have been recognized primarily for their outstanding performance in their chosen field. Omicron Delta Kappa fosters participation in activities, but in order to be recognized by the organization a student must be a leader in some activity.

Alpha Epsilon Circle of O. D. K. was installed at George Washington in June, 1930, with a charter membership of fifteen undergraduates and four faculty members. Membership is restricted to men students, who are recognized.

Hatchet Editorial Staff Meeting September 24

All freshmen, and any upperclassmen who have had previous experience, are requested to attend the first general meeting of the Hatchet editorial staff, which will be held Thursday evening, September 24, at 7:15 p. m., in Corcoran Hall 29.

There are a number of positions open on the staff, which will be filled by the applicants who prove themselves the most capable after a trial period. An attempt is being made to fill the reporter positions from the freshman class as far as possible. If this plan is carried out it will result in a more experienced staff, because each student will be connected with the staff for a longer period of time.

Bugle Calls, Mosquito Bites Thrill Students In Marine Reserve Camp

Those husky, tanned, out-of-door males who inhale during the next few weeks are the result of the summer camp of the Sixth Brigade, Marine Reserve Corps, held at Camp Pollard, Virginia Beach, from August 23 to September 6—George Washington's contribution to these United States military forces.

Training was given in military tactics and all related subjects. One thousand volunteers, outnumbered 10 to 1, fought a memorable battle against silent, malarial-bearing mosquitoes. In addition to this campaign in which all participated, specialized instruction was administered in varying doses.

Top Kick Henry Link is much better fitted for his approaching adventure. There was a machine gun outfit but no machine guns, doubtless due to heavy importations by coast towns. Complete signal systems were installed by the communications group providing no end of wire for hanging purposes. It also replaced the barbed wire entanglements used in the course

Progress Shown By Troubadours In New Comedy

Regular Broadcasts Planned;
Production Will Have Own Orchestra

At its bi-weekly Summer meetings, concluded September 14, the board of directors of the Troubadours have made great progress in plans for the 1931 production. Designs for costumes and scenery have been made and approved and work will be begun shortly. Some lyrics have already been approved, but more are desired and anyone with ability is requested to submit his efforts in manuscript form to Dan Beattie at 1714 Rhode Island avenue.

Denis Connel, prominent Washington actor and director, who has directed the last seven productions of the Troubadours, is to take charge again this year.

During the Summer, stars of past productions have been heard over station WOL as a part of the Troubadour radio program. Mildred Burnham, leading lady of "Sometime Soon" and "Gypsy in Egypt" sang in several of them, as did Bert Bagranoff, also of "Gypsy in Egypt" fame. Marjorie Mitchell of "Goodness Gracious Godfrey," contributed, and Dan Beattie, George Wells, and Hugh Buckingham also took part in the broadcasts.

This year, persons selected for the leading roles in the production will be heard on the regular Troubadour radio program over station WOL on Monday evenings at 7:30, and the presentation of the show will be in December.

Orchestra Being Organized
For the first time the Troubadour orchestra, under the direction of George Wells, is being built up as a part of the play. There is opportunity for any musicians in the University interested to become members. Violinists and saxophonists are particularly desired.

Try-outs for both principals and chorus will be held early in October and every student with any musical or dramatic ability whatsoever is urged to attend, as the strictly impartial try-outs are open to all.

Sorority Rushing Begins October 18; Lasts One Week

Rushing for all women's fraternities will begin on October 18, lasting for one week. The Little Sister Movement will precede the formal rushing period, during which time there will be free association among freshmen and fraternity women, provided that no money be spent on the freshmen, and no freshmen be taken to fraternity rooms or homes of fraternity women, and vice versa.

There will be a financial limit of $150. Invitations to all parties will be sent 56 hours previous to the party, on uniform blanks. There will be no closed dates, and no slumber parties. All parties must end at 12 o'clock. All final parties will be held on the same date.

Students Invited To Council Dance

Two Orchestras Will Furnish Music in Corcoran and Stockton Halls

The University social season will open officially Wednesday, September 23, when the Student Council will sponsor a dance from 9 to 12 p. m., to which all students are invited. A special feature of this affair will be the presence of both the University and the George Washington University orchestras for dancing. This is to cater to the expected large crowd, since last Fall Corcoran Hall 10 was hardly large enough to hold the number which attended the opening dance of the year.

Each year the University gives a dance for the students, under the sponsorship of the Student Council, and new students particularly are requested to consider it their duty and attend for a pleasant evening and the renewal of acquaintanceships and the formation of new ones.

Refreshments On Campus

Two popular Dagmoir orchestras will furnish the music for the evening. The campus will be lighted by colorful lanterns, and refreshments will be served by Demone's.

President and Mrs. Marvin will lead the list of patrons and patronesses, accompanied by the deans and directors of the various schools and departments. Among the chaperones will be Dr. and Mrs. Dreese, Dr. and Mrs. Johnston, Dr. and Mrs. Ragatz, Professor and Mrs. Yeager, Miss Cooper, Miss Atwell, Miss Cornwell, and Professor Crandall.

All fraternities and sororities on the campus will be represented by a delegate serving in conjunction with the Student Council.

Freshmen Greeted By Social Program

Opportunities Are Provided for Students to Meet Their Classmates

A tea given by the Y. W. C. A. on Sunday, September 20, from 4 to 6 P. M., in the Women's Building, for all incoming freshmen women registered in the University, will open the program of activities annually sponsored by the various organizations to welcome the incoming students and introduce them to the University.

During the days of registration, open house will be held in the Women's Buildings. Representatives from all women's organizations on the campus will be on hand to greet the new women students and give them assistance.

On Wednesday, the opening day of school, there will be a general assembly of all freshmen students in Corcoran Hall, building W, at noon for the day students and at 5 p. m. for the evening students. The assemblies have been called by President Marvin and all freshmen must attend.

Panhel Tea Wednesday
Panhellenic is sponsoring a matriculation tea on the afternoon of Wednesday, September 23, for all freshmen women. The tea will be held in the garden behind building C if the day is fair and in the Women's Building if it is rainy. Big sisters will escort their little sisters to this party, which

D. C. Regulations Require Desertion Of Student Union Plan For Present

Contributions Made Last Year
For Furnishing Building
Will Be Refunded If Desired, Says Marvin

Stringent building regulations, passed in the District of Columbia as the result of a number of accidents on school buildings which occurred this summer, have forced abandonment for the present of the plans for a Student Union for The George Washington University.

In making this fact known, President Cloyd Heck Marvin expressed his deep appreciation of the contributions toward the furnishing of the Union made by students and friends of the University, and voiced his keen disappointment over the necessary postponement of a plan in furtherance of student welfare which has been near to his heart since he first came to the University.

"In light of the situation today, I can only say that we shall be glad to return to organizations or individuals the money that they have deposited with the university for the furnishing of a Student Union building. If individuals or organizations care to leave the money with the university, it will be placed out at interest and the accruing interest credited to their subscriptions when the university shall be enabled to use it for the purpose for which it was intended," President Marvin stated.

Not Unfortunate Delay
The announcement of the delay in the announced last spring and received on all sides with great enthusiasm, has met with a series of unforeseen and unavoidable delays.

Originating with President Marvin, who felt strongly the need of a club-house where students would have the opportunity and facilities for campus social life, the project was approved by the Board of Trustees. President Marvin then selected for purchase the Lambie property at 714 21st St., which had the atmosphere of a stately home and at the same time lent itself admirably to the additions which were planned.

Two days after the signing of the contract of sale, the death of the owner suddenly occurred. This delayed transfer of the property to the university until the sanction of the heirs to

High Scholarship Record Retained By Phi Epsilon Pi

Phi Sigma Kappa Wins Interfraternity Council Cup; Average Is Higher
for the Group

Phi Epsilon Pi led the fraternities on the campus in scholarship during the entire academic year 1930-31, maintaining the record it established during the first semester, according to records in the registrar's office. The high percentage was 1.82.

Phi Sigma Kappa continued to occupy its position at the head of the fraternities in the Inter-fraternity Council, thereby winning the Council's Scholarship Cup, which will be awarded at the next term. Phi Sigma Kappa's average was 1.42.

The average of all the fraternities was a considerable number of points higher than that for the first semester alone. Three fraternities, not members of the Inter-fraternity Council, failed to submit lists of their members, and their averages are not available. Three of the four fraternities with the highest averages are not members of the Inter-fraternity Council.

B. F. Ratings:

Phi Epsilon Pi	1.82
Sigma Mu Sigma	1.47
Phi Sigma Kappa	1.42
Sigma Theta Delta	1.32

WASHINGTON, D. C., TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1931

Freshmen

You have come here primarily to acquire knowledge from the courses of instruction offered, but you are here also for the purpose of molding and developing your characters by contact with other people. While holding to the ideals of efficiency in your studies you will still have the opportunity to develop personality and leadership by participating in the many-sided interests of student activities.

Extracurricular activities are very beneficial and broadening—when entered into with moderation. You should consider carefully which phase of activity will be of most benefit to you and to the University. Choose the thing in which you are most interested, and make a success of it. Don't go out for every activity on the campus. If you do you will develop into a "hanger-on," and nothing more. Concentrated effort in one activity will bring results. Membership in many is disastrous.

Nearly every phase of activity at George Washington has been extended within the past few years. The athletic teams, the debating organizations, the glee club, have expanded greatly. So decide now to what field you wish to devote your interests, instead of picking a number of organizations at random in which to merely squander your valuable time.

A Newer Hatchet

With this issue the board of editors presents to the student body new Hatchet—more modern in appearance, and more efficient in

A whole new family of type makes up the headlines, and there is a departure from the old practice of using all capital letters for the heads. The new type is similar to that used by the New York Herald Tribune, and other leading metropolitan dailies, and is representative of the modern trend.

A much better grade of news paper is being used, and this too will add to the appearance of the Hatchet.

This year the contract for the printing of the paper has been let to a regular newspaper plant, with the result that the completed Hatchet will be off the press and in the mail Monday night a few hours after the last news material has been turned in. The student will find his paper awaiting him on Tuesday instead of Wednesday, as heretofore, and it will be much more valuable from the standpoint of news.

It is interesting to note, while on the subject, that this first issue boasts a record amount of advertising space. Progress such as this is indeed gratifying.

Something To Do

Three years ago George Washington University inaugurated a new system for the administration of its athletic policy. One result has been a constantly improving varsity eleven. Last season closed with a record of four victories, four defeats and one tie. A glance at this year's schedule indicates that our team will encounter greater opposition—To overcome this opposition a number of things are necessary. Chief among them is a strong team, a good coaching staff, and the undivided loyalty of the student body. We have a good team. The best of last year's material plus several valuable additions. We have a good coaching staff. Three new mentors augment our already efficient corps. We believe we have the undivided loyalty of the student body. But this loyalty must be capitalized. There must be concentrated support.

A wonderful opportunity presents itself at this time for something constructive in the way of organization work. Why does not our ever-alert Student Council, or our Interfraternity Council form a nucleus for an organized cheering section to attend G. W. games. The student body will cooperate. Attendance at the games has increased remarkably, but there is a lack of vitality and finesse in our cheering. Ignorance of our cheers and our songs is the reason.

Who will move first to remedy this difficulty? The Student Council has been asking for suggestions for constructive work! The Interfraternity Council can well afford to devote some effort to such as this! Something to do???

Yeager And West Head Committees

Professor Willard Hayes Yeager has been appointed chairman of an executive committee which will act in place of the dean of Columbian College. Professor James Henry Taylor of the Mathematics department and Professor DeWitt Clinton Croissant of the English department are the other members of the committee.

A committee has also been appointed to act in the same capacity in the School of Government. Dr. Warren Reed West and Dr. John Albert Tillman, associate professor of Political Science, and Dr. Alva Curtis Wilgus, associate professor of history, have been appointed to this committee. Dr. West will act as chairman.

Gates Is Hatchet Business Manager

Lester M. Gates has been appointed business manager of The University Hatchet for the year 1931-32. He held the same position this Summer for the Summer issues. Last year he served as advertising manager, after having worked as one of the advertising staff. Under Gates' management, the advertising staff has produced very satisfactory results.

This vacancy was created by the resignation of Richard Castell who is registering in the School of Medicine this Fall, and will not have time to carry on the duties of business manager.

University Opening Marked by Highest Academic Prestige

Educational Reorganization and Expansion Effected in Recent Years

The George Washington University enters upon its one hundred and eleventh year tomorrow as an institution enjoying the highest academic prestige, with its college upon the approved list of the Association of American Universities, its Law School rated as Class A by the Association of American Law Schools, and its Medical School similarly rated by the American Medical Association.

During the past four years the student body of the University has increased 21 per cent, registrations for the academic year 1930-31 totaling 8,606. In this same period the teaching staff has been augmented by the addition of 42 full-time and 40 part-time members.

The University has undergone a complete educational reorganization along fundamentally sound, yet markedly progressive lines; and there have been added five academic units, including the Junior College, the School of Government, the Division of Library Science, the Division of Fine Arts, and the Division of University and Extension Students.

Expansion of the educational program has been accompanied by the enlarging of the institution's physical plant.

organized for outstanding work in scholarship, athletics, campus life, literary and forensic activities, and college publications.

Any man registered in the university is eligible and this should provide inspiration to the freshman to select an activity in which he will be interested and stick to it during his entire college career, devoting enough time and attention to it to achieve success and leadership in that activity.

Building R Houses Women's Physical Education Offices

New Showers, Lockers and Dressing Rooms Included in Improved Equipment for Department

New quarters have been provided for the Women's Physical Education Department, with improved equipment and better facilities for the conduct of the activities of the department. Building R, which combines two adjacent buildings, will house the department. The building has been completely remodeled and equipped for their use.

One building is devoted entirely to showers, lockers, and dressing rooms. The basement has been remodeled and fully equipped for corrective gym classes. The other building is given over to offices for the instructors, for Dr. Chapman, the W. A. A. class rooms, and a study room for students majoring in Physical Education.

In addition, several new instructors have been added to the physical education staff. Miss Agnes Rodgers will join the staff to coach Hockey. She received her B. A. from Smith College, attended the Boston School of Physical Education, and received her M. S. from the University of Wisconsin. Miss Rodgers played on the All-American Hockey Team for two years. Dr. Purse, physician at the Y. W. C. A., will give the Hygiene lectures this year.

Many Fall Sports Offered

Hockey, soccer, tennis, archery, riding, and golf are fall sports offered by the department. Plans are being made for sports days with Goucher, Hood, and American University.

Building X, across the street from Corcoran Hall, is this year's seat of activities for the Little Sister Committee of the Y. W. C. A. during registration. Freshmen whose names have already come in have received cards, naming their sponsors during the first weeks of the school year. Others will receive assignments from the "Y" girls in charge of the little sister desk.

Representatives from campus organizations, including Sphinx, Hourglass, Presbyterian Club, Baptist Student Union, Menorah Society, History Club, Episcopal Club, Newman Club, Alpha Lambda Delta, Y. W. C. A., and Phi Delta Gamma will be at the women's building all during the registration period to greet the freshmen and help them to become acquainted with the University. Tea is served during the day at an informal and continuous reception from 9 to 5 o'clock on Saturday, Monday, and Tuesday.

Informal tea on Sunday, September 20, opened the little sister social program. There will be a sight-seeing-around-the-campus tea Sunday and a surprise party on Thursday, October 1.

The Little Sister Movement is under the direction of Jane Hill, who is vice president of the Y. W. C. A. at the University. Betty Rees is in charge of the reception committee. All women students who want little sisters may leave their names at the table where assignments are being made.

James Benedict Reilly

On Friday evening, August 14, James Benedict Reilly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Reilly of Cold Spring, N. Y., and a student in George Washington University, passed away at Butterfield Memorial Hospital after an operation for appendicitis. He was a member of Alpha Kappa Kappa, Medical Fraternity, and vice president of Alpha Zeta chapter, and was a member of Phi Eta Sigma freshman honorary fraternity.

Reilly graduated from Fordham School of Pharmacy in 1928. He was a registered pharmacist and followed this profession until he entered the University in September, 1927, enrolling in the Pre-Medical division. He entered the Medical School in 1929 and had successfully completed his sophomore year.

1931 Grid Material Promises Season Of Good Football

Last Year's Men Are Shaping Up Well and New Gridders Show Progress

By JOHN T. VIVIAN

The 1931 George Washington football squad, which broke camp Saturday, looks like the most formidable combination that has borne the Buff and Blue in many a year.

The camp, which has completed its second year, has become an institution, and Head Coach James E. Pixlee, has made an excellent choice in Camp Letts, on the Rhodes River. Here the boys live in excellent quarters and have the best food under the watchful eye of Jean Sexton.

The squad is composed of about 50 men, all averaging well over 180 pounds and in the pink of condition. If height and avoirdupois have anything to do with winning games the Colonials should chalk up all games in the win column.

New Men Doing Well

There are several men from last year's freshman squad who are showing up well. Among these are Leon Fouts, who plays an end position, and Howard Florence, a back. Both of these men played hang-up games last year and from all indications will do even better this year. Others of the freshman squad are fast learning varsity technique and are giving last

Here, MEN, smoke a man's smoke

A PIPEFUL of good tobacco is distinctly a man's smoke. The women (long may they waver) have of our masculine privileges. But pipe smoking still belongs to us.

In every walk of life you'll find that the men at the top are pipe smokers. And most college men agree that the pipe offers the rarest pleasures a man could ask of his smoking.

When you smoke a pipe, be sure you choose the tobacco that will give you the greatest enjoyment. In 42 out of 54 colleges Edgeworth is the favorite. You can buy Edgeworth wherever good tobacco is sold.

Or for a special sample packet, write to Larus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 2nd St., Richmond, Va. Sample is free.

EDGEWORTH SMOKING TOBACCO

Edgeworth is a blend of fine old tobaccos, with its natural flavor enhanced by Edgeworth's distinctive and exclusive eleventh process. Buy Edgeworth anywhere in two forms—Edgeworth Ready Rubbed and Edgeworth Plug Slice. All sizes, 125 pocket package to 50 pound humidor tin.

year's regulars quite a fight for their berths.

It is still early in the season to predict how this machine will function against tough opponents, but unless I miss my guess they should come out on the long end of quite a few scores. The line drills are quite extensive and many of the new men and veterans are being whipped into shape in this way. Johnnie Fenlon is showing his usual class in line plunging and it looks as though he will even improve in this art.

Carter is also showing great promise in this line and on some of his runs in training camp he showed indications of mid-season playing. Art Kriemelmeyer still has his old power in booting the pigskin, while Les Carlin, despite his accident, is rounding into good shape. Wayne Chambers is showing up well at end as well as Bert Bagranoff, who is playing a guard position. Frank Blackstone is doing well at center along with Gilbert Conn and Ralph Dike.

Many Valuable Coaches

Head Coach James E. Pixlee has a wealth of material for training the Colonial chargers. Len Walsh, who is a veteran of the last two year's standing, is working on building up the line, paying particular attention to the end positions. Raskowski, who was an all-American guard in 1928, is also applying his knowledge to the line work, along with Myers Kresky, who was an all-Western guard, who is aiding in the line and backfield work.

Coach Pixlee, who was at Westminster College before coming to George Washington, has built up the athletic department and coaching staff of the University until it has reached its present position among local football circles.

Interesting Schedule

The schedule for the present year proves to be one of the most interesting that the University has had. The first game is with Shenandoah, on Saturday, September 26, at Central Stadium. This game should prove fairly easy for the Buff and Blue and give them an opportunity to start the season off on the right foot. The second game, which is also a home game, on October 3, is with Elon College. These boys, while they are much younger than the George Washington team, should put up a fair scrap, as they are reputed to have a well balanced combination.

October 10, the Colonials travel to Boston to encounter Boston University and then return here to play Tulsa a night game on October 16. As all will remember, these Oklahoma boys put up a tough fight last year to finally down the George Washington gridders. They will have to do better this year in order to repeat that feat.

On October 31, George Washington will be the guests of Iowa University at Iowa City. This will be one of the feature games of the series and the George Washington gridders will have to show all their wares in order to take the measure of these boys, as the corn huskers are reputed to have one of the strongest teams in the Big Six. Salem College will be the Colonials' guests on November 6. This game should prove a breather for the boys after the game with Iowa.

The following week, on November 13, is an open date. On November 20, the boys of Butler University, in Indiana, will journey here for the tussle. This game should prove a very interesting scrap and all eyes will be turned on George Washington to see the caliber of their chargers.

North Dakota Game

The big game of the season will be on Thanksgiving Day, when North Dakota will journey here for the curtain call of the season. North Dakota has always had powerful teams in past years and this will give George Washington an opportunity to see how she stacks up against a real proposition.

Colonials Demonstrate Experience And Speed In Pre-Season Practice

Sea Nettles, Mosquitoes, and Diabolical Machines Combine to Create Harmonious Working Team at Camp Letts, on Rhodes River

One's first impression of the Colonial gridders, after viewing a typical day of pre-season practice at Camp Letts, Md., is that George Washington University will have a more experienced, faster and altogether better outfit than it had last fall. Most of the veterans are at the game again with renewed vigor; the only losses of importance being Sturtevant, an end, and Billy Wells, who was a sterling back.

A typical day at Camp Letts starts with the boys being routed out of their exceedingly comfortable bunks at an early hour. Then they are led through those antics known as "setting up exercises" by one of the assistant coaches who is in the vernacular quite "hard." If the monkey drill and the ensuing plunge into the chilly waters of Rhodes River does not awaken some of the sleepy athletes, one of those unpleasant beings of few cells called sea nettles will arouse them.

Scrimmage Every Day

There is no grumbling in the mess hall this year—the food is excellent—and the way it is stowed away. The morning is spent in running through signal practice, punting, passing, and light practice in gym outfits.

During the first week of the team's sojourn at the Y. M. C. A. Camp, the early afternoon was a continuation of the morning's program and later short scrimmages were held. However, during the past week the men were blessed with cooler weather and Coach Pixlee had his charges at mock football during the best part of the afternoon.

These scrimmages of the second week indicate that the team is fast reaching playing form and Pixlee avers that he is satisfied with the progress so far.

Good Material in Squad

One youngster, a new man, Vernon Gilliland, shows class, being adept in all fields of the game, especially in his shifty style of running the ball. Art Kriemelmeyer is still the punting ace for the Colonials, and when he and Joe Carter pair up for interference the ball carrier is assured of a clear field for a good many yards. That smashing, dashing back, Johnny Fenlon, is back hitting harder and running faster than ever before.

Chambers, who was center last year, and Mulvey, a veteran, are doing well at end. Galloway, Hale and Slaird all look good in the tackle position. Bagranoff, who played guard last season, and Hickman, a newcomer, are slated, tentatively, for guard. Frank Blackstone, Conn and Dikes are fighting for the center of the line. Leon Fouts, who will be remembered in freshman basketball, is doing excellent work at snagging passes while Matias, Doyle and Asher are promising backfield men.

The only serious injuries to date were sustained by Johnny Fenlon when in practice he twisted his ankle, and Lee Carlin who was a bit more unfortunate as he was thrown through a windshield in an automobile accident and is suffering from cuts about the neck and shoulders. Both Carlin and Fenlon expect to be in condition for the first game. Jack Jones, Art Kriemelmeyer and Barney Hale have become victims of a slight fever.

Men's Glee Club Meets October 1

Voice Tryouts For Vacancies Will Be Given To Candidates

The first regular meeting of the George Washington University Men's Glee Club is scheduled for Thursday evening, October 1, at 7:30, in Corcoran Hall 10.

At this meeting, voice tryouts will be given to the candidates present.

While it is expected that a greater percentage of the men of last year's club will again turn out for service, a considerable number of vacancies will occur, particularly in the first tenor section. It is urged that any man with

Pixlee Designates Three Grid Stars To Coach Varsity

Highly Specialized Coaching Staff Now Totals Seven Mentors

The George Washington University coaching staff has been greatly strengthened this year by the addition of three new coaches. These men will assist in the various phases of the line and backfield work.

The first of the men is Leo Raskowski, who hails from Cleveland, Ohio. He entered East High School in Cleveland in 1921 and played football that year and the three successive years, winning All-State places in '22, '23 and '24, as well as captaining the team in 1924. After completing his enviable high school record he chose Ohio State as

40 years

Is a long, long time

It was 1891 when Dr. Quigley set himself up in the drug store business. In the old days about all a druggist needed was a good mortar and pestle, but, just as all things do, the drug store business changes. The University located across the street from the store, and naturally, that made a difference.

Dr. Quigley wasn't long in learning all about student needs and tastes. Fact is, he is an expert in those lines.

Pause for a Quigley "Coke" between classes. You'll note that it's a good bit more refreshing than those elsewhere, and even tastes better, too. So it is with everything served at the fountain.

Look over the complete stock of notebooks and students' supplies, the full line of fountain pens and pencils—you're sure to find just what you want . . . and you can do it between classes while you are renewing old acquaintances and making new ones.

And in the rush of the first school week please remember that every member of the Quigley staff is striving to render efficient and courteous service.

Dreams of vacations at home with mother's cooking, or happy week-ends at nearby resorts, fade away as September ends and October and a new school year looms ahead of us. There have been several weddings, fewer engagements, and many parties during the past Summer.

A dance which we may look forward to with keen anticipation is one to be given, gratis, to the students of the University by the Student Council, in Corcoran Hall on Wednesday evening, September 23.

The weddings were of interest to us all. The charming and popular Billie Wright, and Channing Davis were married on September 16. Hazel Gahard and John Cragun chose the famous old Pohick Church as the scene of their marriage. Mildred Crews and Fern Henninger were married early in the month.

Thacker and Ruddiman Leave for Harvard

Two popular students who are entering Harvard University this Fall, have been guests of honor at many farewell parties. The two are John Thacker and Harry Ruddiman.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon gave the last of its series of Summer dances Saturday, September 11. Dagnoir furnished the music and many of the members of the various sororities and fraternities enjoyed getting together once again.

Jack Vivian, Ray Gable, and Tom Eager spent the Summer touring the United States, Mexico, and Canada. They attended the Delta Tau Delta national convention at Seattle, Wash. Tia Juana, six national parks and Banff were some of the unusual and interesting stops that they made.

Kline, Darton Vacation in Paris

spent the Summer in France. Most of the Summer they spent in Paris and sketching in southern France and Italy.

Bill Carey, Sigma Nu, has just returned from a vacation at his home in Owensboro, Ky.

Maude Hudson and Bill Dismar spent a week at Virginia Beach.

Sigma Chi welcomes back many of the brothers who have spent vacations in various parts of the country. A few of those returning this week are Dick Hill, Whitey Helverson, Rob Sterling, and Karl Moser.

Barney Conger and Louise James spent their free time enjoying the many attractions of Atlantic City.

Midshipmen See Many G. W. Students

Ruth Warren and Kathryn Dille were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Christian and Yvonne Christian at a house party given when the midshipmen arrived home from their Summer cruise. Guests at the house party included several students from William and Mary and George Washington. Norfolk was the scene of many interesting dances, dinner parties and beach parties during this week-end.

Della Little returns this week from a trip to New York and Bermuda.

Verna Parsons was hostess at a farewell supper party at her home Sunday evening in honor of John Thacker.

Richard Hawes and Kathryn Dille were George Washington students seen at the Yacht Club regatta given Labor Day at Wagner's Point. Frank Weitzel and Mildred Burnham spent last week-end at Sperryville, Va.

Jasper Highsmith has left Washington and George Washington to practice law in his home town in Georgia.

Joe Howard, popular member of Kappa Alpha and past president of the Student Council, spent the Summer visiting friends in Cleveland and Detroit.

James Coberly, Sigma Chi, has returned after visiting his parents in Illinois.

Valuable Addition

likely backfield candidate for the varsity eleven

Jack Jones, who hails from Temple, Texas, has proven so far to be one of the most valuable additions to Coach Fiske's team. He played football in high school for four years, making All State selection in his senior year. After finishing high school, he entered Baylor, in Texas, where he continued his football career. From there he came to George Washington where he is making a very strong bid for the berth of fullback.

He is a junior in the University, tips the scales at 190 pounds and is 5 feet 10 inches tall.

The Varsity Schedule

Sept. 26—Shenandoah College at Central High School Stadium (afternoon).
Oct. 3—Elon College at Griffith Stadium (night).
Oct. 10—Boston University (away).
Oct. 16—Tulsa University at Griffith Stadium (night).
Oct. 24—G. W. Freshmen at Griffith Stadium (night).
Oct. 31—Iowa University (away).
Nov. 6—Salem College at Griffith Stadium (night).
Nov. 13—Open day.
Nov. 20—Butler University at Griffith Stadium (night).
Nov. 26—North Carolina University at Griffith Stadium.

Social Program Meets Incoming Freshman Class

is the opening social event of the Little Sister movement.
On Wednesday evening the Student Council will sponsor a university dance which is given in honor of the freshman class. A reception will precede the dance. At the reception the freshmen will be greeted by representatives from the various organizations of the University. The reception will be from 8 to 9 p. m., the dance following from 9 p. m. until midnight.
Sunday, September 27, the Y. W. C. A. will give a tea in the garden back of building C for all freshman women in the University. The big sisters will again be asked to escort their little sisters.

Women's Glee Club Plans First Meeting October 3

The Women's Glee Club will hold its first meeting of the year on Saturday, October 3, in Corcoran Hall 10, at 12:15.
Under the supervision of Dr. Robert H. Harmon, director of the club, voice tryouts will be given to new candidates.
It is hoped that not only the members of last year's organization, but all women interested in glee club singing, will arrange to be present.

Many Professors Added to Faculty For Current Year

McKinley Heads Med. School; Buchanan Comes Here From Harvard

Thirty-one new members will join the faculty of the University this Fall. The new appointments include the dean of the School of Medicine, one teacher of professorial rank, four professorial lecturers, one associate professor, five assistant professors, ten instructors, seven lecturers and two associates.

Earl Baldwin McKinley, A. B., M. D., the new dean of the Medical School, is an eminent bacteriologist teacher and medical administrator. He was formerly professor of Bacteriology in Columbia University and director of the School of Tropical Medicine of the University of Porto Rico.

Three appointments have been made in the Department of Economics. Daniel Houston Buchanan, formerly of the Harvard University faculty, has been appointed associate professor of Economics. A student of the Far East, Professor Buchanan taught for 11 years in Japan and holds the degree of doctor of science from Keiojuku, Tokyo. Walter Lyman Rice, assistant to the United States Attorney General, has joined the faculty of the Economic Department as lecturer in Commercial and Maritime Law. A new instructorship has been created in Economics and Ralph Dale Kennedy, formerly of the faculty of the University of Iowa, will fill the post.

Yocum Botany Assistant
L. Edwin Yocum, Ph. D., has been added to the staff of the Botany Department as assistant professor. Dr. Yocum holds degrees from Pennsylvania State College and Iowa State University, and was formerly a member of the faculty of the North Carolina College for Women. Dr. Albert Spear Hitchcock and Dr. Neil Everett Stevens have also joined the staff of the Botany Department as professorial lecturers.

In the Department of Education, Mitchell Dreese, Ph. D., has been appointed to the newly created assistant professorship. Professor Dreese received his academic training at Teachers College, Columbia University, and comes to George Washington from Grinnell College, Iowa, where he served as director of personnel. Other additions to the staff of the Education Department are Professor Lois Coffey, M. A., Ph. D., who will come down from New York each week for the course in Industrial Arts, and Dr. Edgar Crighton Higbie, president of Wilson Teachers College, who will give a course in The Elementary School Principalship.

Pascuale Mario Torraceo is the new assistant professor of Architecture. Professor Torraceo is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and has spent much time studying in Italy and France. He has taught at the University of Cincinnati, Pennsylvania State College, and Cooper Union, and for six years was engaged in private practice.

Public Speaking
A new assistant professorship has been created in the Department of Public Speaking and Harold Friend Harding has been appointed to this post. Professor Harding is a graduate of Hamilton College and of Cornell University and has undertaken research work abroad. He taught extemporaneous speaking and debate and prepared debate teams at Iowa State University in 1926; was assistant in public speaking at Harvard Law School in 1927, and for the past three years has taught at Cornell.

Dr. Alexander H. Krappe, considered an outstanding man in philology and among the most prolific of the younger scholars in Romance Languages in this country, has been appointed assistant professor in the Department of Romance Languages. Dr. Krappe is a graduate of the University of Berlin, the University of Iowa and the University of Chicago, and has to his credit a long list of scholarly treatises. Prior to 1928 he taught at the University of Minnesota, and since that time has been engaged in research in Europe and this country.

The Department of Romance Languages also has a new instructor, Franc Paul Gaston Thénard. Mr. Thénard was educated at the Université de Bordeaux and the Université de Lyon, later going to Germany, where he spent three years in study at the Centre d'Etudes Germaniques de Mayence. Coming to America, he received the degree of master of arts at the University of Illinois. He has taught at the

In October, 1930, Jackson received his A. B. degree, and is now registered in the Law School. He was elected Student Council representative from that school and was chosen as president of the Council by the members of that body. His social fraternity is Delta Tau Delta.

American University of Beirut, Syria, and at the University of Illinois.

Philosophy Expanded
There will be a greatly enlarged curriculum in the Department of Philosophy with the appointment of Christopher Browne Garnette, Jr., as instructor in philosophy. An honor graduate of Princeton, the new instructor has studied in European universities and has submitted his thesis for the doctor's degree at the University of Edinburgh.

Other new members of the teaching staff are:

In the School of Medicine, Lt. Com. Franklin Forman Murdoch, acting executive officer of the Naval Medical School, who will serve as professor of Tropical Medicine; Myron C. Waddell, M. S., who has been appointed instructor in Anatomy, and Edward A. Krause, lecturer on first aid.

Gentlemen:

I wish to thank you for my appointment as your representative for George Washington University. After seeing your stock of new fall clothes for the college men, I do not hesitate to say that the Raleigh Haberdasher will quickly be accepted as the logical Men's Wear Store for us. I was happy to note that your prices average about 25% below last year's. Certainly, with the fine types of merchandise you handle, and priced so moderately, I shall have no difficulty in persuading my friends to patronize you. Beginning this Saturday I shall meet my Saturday afternoon at your store.

Very truly yours,

student friends

Last year, at the G. W., Bill served more than 50,000 meals to students—mostly fellows who like a man's kind of food—and at thrifty prices.

The 25-cent club breakfast is a topnotcher... lunch is 25 and 30 cents (most sandwiches are 10 cents) ... and on the 45-cent dinner, which is about all any man cares to eat, Bill often serves a Hungarian special.

Try Bill's food—don't be surprised after that to find yourself making a habit of the

Loans Committee Named In Effort To Aid Students

Further Steps Will Be Taken by University in Unem- ployment Relief

Creation of a special committee on student loans and employment and the setting aside of a loan fund to be made available at once to students who must have aid if they are to continue their studies this year, were announced by President Cloyd Heck Marvin as the initial steps in the University's program of cooperation with President Hoover's organization on unemployment relief.

Replying to the appeal addressed to university and college presidents by Fred C. Croxton, assistant director of the Organization on Unemployment Relief, Dr. Marvin said:

"It is a particular pleasure for me

Student Council Is Host At Newcomers' Reception

The Student Council is sponsoring a reception for all new students on Wednesday, September 23, 8 P. M., in room 10, Corcoran Hall. The reception will be followed by an open dance. It is hoped that all new students will attend the reception as it will be a splendid opportunity to meet future classmates, and the dance an opportunity to enter into the social life, which is a vital part of the University. The dance will be attended by members of the Student Council, and you are assured of a very pleasant evening.

to report to one of our own graduates upon the steps which are being taken by The George Washington University to cooperate with the President's Organization on Unemployment Relief.

"Bending Every Effort"

"The university is bending every effort to make it possible for students to continue their academic training during the coming year.

"To this end a special committee has been created to handle student loans and employment, and to make a general study of the situation as it relates to this institution and its student body.

"A fund, made available through the generosity of our alumni and other friends, has been set aside which will be utilized in small loans to aid students in continuing in the university this year.

"Additional measures will be adopted after further consideration by the committee."

The personnel of the university's Committee on Student Loans and Employment is as follows: Professor Warren Reed West, chairman of the executive committee of Columbian College, chairman; Professor Henry Grat-tan Doyle, dean of the Junior College; Charles Wendell Holmes, comptroller of the university; Fred Everett Nessell, registrar of the university; Mrs. Vinnie G. Barrows, director of Women's Personnel Guidance; Dorothy Poor, employment secretary of the university; Professor Anna Pearl Cooper and Professor Saul Chesterfield Oppenheim.

D. C. Regulations Require Desertion of Union Project

the property could be secured, and the will be provided.

Much Money Subscribed

In the meantime, the Student Council had sponsored the raising of a fund to help in furnishing the Student Union, and considerable money had been subscribed.

During the summer the estate was adjusted and the property turned over to the university. Meanwhile, however, a number of accidents occurring on public school buildings under construction and repair, prompted the passage of regulations in the District which make impossible the use of the Lambie property for purposes of a Student Union. The Administration had acquired sufficient money to remodel the Lambie home and build the additions, but under the new regulations it would be mandatory practically to raise the building, a process which would require a sum almost double what had been planned for and secured.

University Location Uncertain

Aside from the additional expense attached to the construction of an entirely new building for a Student Union, uncertainty as to whether the University will be permanently located in this area makes it unwise at this time to go ahead with plans for the union.

The Lambie house has been renovated and will be used this year for the offices of the Director of Women's Personnel Guidance and for rest and lounge rooms for women students of the University.

Pixlee Designates

Three New Coaches

his Alma Mater in 1925. The following year he had a berth as Western Conference tackle. His big year was 1927, when he was All-American and All-Western tackle. He repeated this remarkable feat in 1928. After graduating from Ohio State he assisted in coaching under William at Ohio State.

Raskowski is an ideal type of football man, as he is 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighs 220 pounds. His background of experience and eight years of playing and his coaching make him ideal to aid in shaping the team into shape.

ed Under Pixlee

Bill, second of this trio, claims to be of Los Angeles as his home town. He is 6 feet tall and weighs 185 pounds.

Meyer, ended Westminster College in 1925 and played under Head Coach Pixlee. He was All-Missouri fullback in 1926. In 1927 he transferred to Occidental College in Los Angeles, where he played that year and the two following years, making all conference halfback in 1930. His experience in the backfield and recent playing make him invaluable as an aid in the backfield.

The third member is Joe Kresky, whose home is in Marinette, Wis. He is 5 feet 11 inches tall and weighs 205 pounds.

He played high school football in '21, '22, '23 and '24, making All-State fullback in 1924. He entered Wisconsin in 1925 and played varsity in 1926, 1927 and 1928, being a fullback in 1926 and guard in '27 and '28. He was mentioned on the All-Western team as a guard in 1928.

Dr. Bartsch Is Seriously Injured In Auto Accident

Dr. Paul Bartsch, professor of zoology of the University, was seriously injured in an automobile accident last Monday night while returning to Washington from Wisconsin, where he had been visiting with a sister.

Dr. Bartsch was forced from the road by a truck, and his car overturned, pinning him beneath it. His left arm was broken and he suffered cuts about the face and hands. He is in a hospital at Bloomington, Ill., but it is expected that he will be able to return to Washington this week.

Bi-Centennial Made Cherry Tree Theme

Subscription Campaign Being Con- ducted During Registration

Announcement is made by the Board of Editors of the 1932 Cherry Tree that in commemoration of the Bi-Centennial Celebration of George Washington's Birthday, special efforts are being made to publish a book which, in addition to the customary features and thorough survey of the school year, will contain a historical background to greatly enhance its value and be of interest to every student and graduate.

A subscription campaign is being conducted during the registration whereby a student may be sure of receiving his copy by subscribing now. This will make it possible to contract for the exact number of copies desired and will alleviate the difficulty of last year when a large number were unable to purchase a copy due to the limited supply available. In view of this, all who desire a 1932 Cherry Tree should subscribe now.

At the meeting held August 30, Pauline Schaub was elected chairman of the board. Other members are Wendell H. Bain, business manager; William H. Hanback, Jean Fugitt, Elizabeth Rees, Ralph R. McCoy, and Archie Burgess.

Interfrat Rushing To Begin Sept. 30

Interfraternity rush rules for this year are changed slightly in the direction of deferred pledging. The rules are:

There shall be no rushing for four days before the opening of school and for seven days thereafter.

Rushing shall begin on the eighth day after the opening of school and continue until noon of the third Sunday after school opens.

Pledging shall commence at noon on the third Sunday after the opening of school.

There shall be no limit to rushing functions either as to number or kind. There shall be no closed dates for any organization.

Violation of these regulations shall result in suspension from the Interfraternity Council and its activities for one year, subject to the discretion of the council.

In terms of the calendar there is to be no rushing before Wednesday, September 30. From that date until noon of Sunday, October 11, constitutes rush period. Pledging may not begin before noon, October 11. Fraternities may elect their own dates and choose their own form of rush functions—as many and of whatever nature, as they see fit.

He "got by" for years without a good pen
—but what a price he paid!

Behind the courteous consent, there frequently smolders an aversion to lending one's pen. "Since he borrowed mine, it has never been the same," is often said, but NOT of Parker Duofold. For here is a point no hand can distort. Yet it writes as easily as you breathe—with amazing Pressureless Touch.

So be careful not to borrow any other pen—avoid the risk of becoming unpopular. Better yet, stop at the nearest pen counter and pick up a Parker Duofold. Then you won't create ill will by borrowing. And you can gain good will by lending graciously. You'll find other pens which are priced 50% higher than the Parker Duofold Jr. or Lady Duofold at $5 yet with 22% to 69% less ink capacity. You won't find any with Parker's stylish streamlined shape, jewel-like color range, Invisible Filler, and Patented Clip, which holds the pen (or pencil) low and unexposed.

Go today and try it. Make this amazing comparison of value that is winning new thousands to Parker every day.
